PACKERS RETURN TO WORK TODAY

Big Strike Has Officially Been De clared Off by Prest. Michael J. Donnelly.

CO BACK UNDER OLD SCALE.

Men Return to Work on Same Conditions as Prevailed Prior to The Walk out.

Chicago, Sept. 8 .- The strike of the butcher workmen, which has demoralized the meat packing industry throughout the country for the last two months, was officially declared off tonight by President Michael J. Donnelly of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters & Butcher Workmen of America. This morning Mr. Donnell; telegraphed the members of the national executive committee asking their consent to an announcement of the end of the struggle, and tonight, having received favorable answers from all, he declared that the strike of the members of his organization would end at midnight.

The strike of the members of the affillated unions at the stockyards who quit in sympathy with the butchers, will be officially called off tomorrow merning at a meeting of the conference board of the allied trades. This was decided on at a meeting of the cen tral body of the allied trades held to night. The general body was at first in favor of continuing the strike, but Mr. Donnelly, who was present, an-nounced that the men were defeated and that in order to save his union from being entirely disrupted he would order his men to return to work in the orning, no matter what course might be taken by other unions. As the other unions had no grievance, but had gone on strike to aid the butchers, there was nothing left for them but to follow the lead of Mr. Donelly, and they, too, decided to call off the strike as far as they were concerned.

When the packers were notified tonight that it had been decided to end the strike, they announced that they would give places as far as possible to the skilled men, but it was stated at the same time that many of these men would be unable to secure their old places as in many cases the work was being performed in a satisfactory man-ner by men who had been secured since the commencement of the strike. It is expected that the majority of the un-skilled men will be unable to secure their places again. It was the question of a wage scale for this class of men that brought about the strike, the packers refusing to sign an agreement with any class other than skilled workmen.

During the strike approximately 53,000 persons have been involved in the struggle, which is estimated to have cost the men about $5,000,000 in wages, as against an estimated loss of $7,500,-000 to the packers in loss of business and in increased expenses. The greatest number of men idle in Chicago during the strike was 25,000, and the total in the country outside of this city is estimated to be about

The original cause of the strike was the packers pay to the unskilled work-men 18½ cents an hour. The packers re-fused to sign an agreement, but offered to arbitrate the question. This was accepted, the strikers agreeing to return to work pending the decision of the arbitrators. The men, however, were dissatisfied with the manner in which they were being put to work, and declared that they would not return unless all the men were given their old places in one day's time. The packers declaring that this was physically inthe men went on strike for the second time. The men now return to work under the conditions that existed before the strike.

Next Meeting Place of the Knights Templar in July, 1907.

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—Saratoga Springs, N. Y., was today chosen as the Knights Templar in July, 1907.
With the exception of the members of the grand encampment, who held two business sessions, the visiting Knights Templar devoted today pleasure. Excursions to nearby points of interest, receptions at the various commanderies headquarters, a concert In the Greek amphitheater at the University of California, a banquet to the victorious Louisville drill corps and a press club finks to visiting journalists were the main features of the program. The weather remained unusually warm for San Francisco, but as the usual humidity of the atmosphere was lackling, no serious discomfort was experienced. The gally attired streets are daily and nightly thronged with strangers. It is estimated that the concave has attracted fully 80,000 visitors to this city. Chicago and St. Louis are the leading aspirants for the next triennial gathering and the advocates of both places are actively working to secure

ROCK ISLAND WRECK.

Two Killed and Nineteen Were Injured, Four Seriously,

Tiskilwa, Ill., Sept. 8 .- Two persons were killed and 19 injured, four of them seriously, in the collision of a Rock Isl-and passenger train and a freight train near here last night. The freight train was running on the eastbound track when an air hose burst and in an unexplained manner caused a number of cars to pile up, several of the box cars covering the westbound track, on which the passenger train was running. The fast train struck the wreck on the freight cars and the locomotive, bag-gage car, smoker and chaircar were deralled and seriously damaged. One of the sleeping cars left the rails, but was only slightly damaged. A relief train was immediately made up, and all passengers were taken care of as soon as possible. The passenger train is the Chicago-Kansas City train and left Chicago last night. DEAD.

Hill to the Russian government, The ships in question are the Minnesota, recently completed, and the Dakota, now on the stocks at New London, Conn. It was even stated that a local ship broker was to receive a commission of $35,000 for conducting the sale. When asked about the reports, Mr.

Incidents on the Field of Strife Graphically Told by English and Russian War Correspondents. London, Sept. 9 .- The Times correspondent with the Japanese left army sends a long narrative of the battle of Line Yang. Describing the operations of Sept. 1, he says: "The general impression was that we had only to advance and occupy the town, but Gens, Nodzu's and Oku's armies required a day's rest. In 50. hours Oko had made four general assaults which had failed, and he had subsisted through the inclement weather on rations carried on the person. while reserve ammunition required replenishing.

> ENTOMBED IN MINE. "The Russians had fallen back good order, taking with them every thing except some 200 of their latest dead, while the only prisoners to fall into the hands of the Japanese were seven men who were entombed in an observation mine casement on a brush covered hill. A. Japanese storming party had piled sand bags over the orifice of the casement. It was an extra-ordinary incident, for the entombed Russians had shot two officers who wished to parley with them and even-tually surrendered 36 hours later in a horrible state.

HIDEOUS HEAP.

"I will not dwell upon the sickening and harrowing sights of the battlefield except to mention one incident: The Japanese stormers had penetrated the highest trench and had overpowered the cossacks holding it, bu: Russians from a splinter-proof shelter behind had fallen with their bayonets on the galsuccess and the bodies of both Japanese and Cossacks were piled thick upon each other in a hideous heap.

JAP LOSS OVER 10,000.

"The casualties of the Japanese in five divisions at the lowest compila-tion were not less than 10,000 and they to the crops of millet, several of the wounded have not been found and they nust have died miserably, while many bodies will never be found until the crops are cut.

ki's army.

Trains have been seen leaving al during the day. Again the rear guard, having completed its duty, retired."

WORST WORLD HAS EVER SEEN. The correspondent refers to one of Oku's artillery attacks as one of the most severe concentrated artillery fires the world has ever seen. Every gun be-longing to two of the Japanese corps was trained in rapid fire on the left of Kuropatkin's position.

The correspondent says: "It was a magnificent and withal an awe-inspiring spectacle. The Russian go-downs were set on fire as were the station buildings, and nothing could live under the attack. The end of the Russian resistance had come and the Japanese gunners rested from this part of devastation and slaughter when suddenly out of the midst of smoke and murky dust left from the reeking shrapnel came counter flashes from two of three Russian batteries. "That evening the remaining Russians in the trenches still kept the Japanese at bay, but the iron minded Oku, little reckoning that his flerce assaults had already cost close upon 20,000 men determined upon a final enveloping as-sault on this stubborn rear guard. The last reserves were pushed in, and at a o'clock in the morning, after five days of the most severe fighting the world has seen since the American Civil war the Japanese army seized the railway bridge and was in occupation of Liao

NO RESOURCE OVERLOOKED. The correspondent says:

'No resource known to modern en gineers for field works had been over It was evident at the outse that Oku's previous successes had caused him to despise the staying power of the enemy, for without walting for adequate preparations he pushed his infantry down to the limit of the standing crops, which had not ome under the Russians' precaution-

"The Russian tactics at Liao Yang were a revelation for which Oku had to pay dearly."

JAPANESE PERSISTENCE. Describing the failure of some of the Japanese infantry attacks, the corres-"The Japanese art of war counsels persistence, and they have material that can be persistent. Despite the failure of the first attack on the 30th the cold gray of morning witnessed another scene of slaughter on the Russia right as the defenders again hurled back the attack. The Japanese de-served success, but an enfilading fire swept each rush before the men even lay hands on the entanglements. THIRD ASSAULT.

Graphically picturing the ebb and flow of the conflict on Aug. 31 the conrespendent continues: "Oku was growing desperate. From the position of the Fifth division it was evident that the Tenth division and Kuroki were making no headway, so Oku determined upon the third general assault on that night. Just think of it—a third assault in 24 hours. All day he had been moving reserves upon the firing line and this assault was but a repetition of previous ones. TRAIL OF PROSTRATE KHAKI.

"Except at one portion of the line there was gruesome evidence the next morning to show how like hares in snares the heroic infantry had strug-gled into the barbed wire entangle-ments to die-how, blundering in the darkness, sections had thrown them-selves down yards from the flating lines of muzzles whose dashes marked the goal they were never to win; but the dist battalion of the thirty-fourth regi-ment, which for 48 hours had been lying in the scrub at the foot green glacias on the center hill broke through the entanglements and, in spite of a flanking fire which swept away group after group, had enough endur, ance to reach the first trench. What happened there no one knows, but in the morning when we viewed the position, Russians and Japanese were lying intermingled waist deep in the ditch, while from parapet to entanglements, perhaps for 150 yards, a thick trail of prostrate khaki toid a tale no pen can describe.

ASSAULT AGAIN. "Everywhere again the assault failed, Divisional telephones told headquar-ters the desperate news, and the lacon-ic reply was, 'Construct, reinforce and essault again before daybreak,' but the curtain had already failen on the first act of the drama.

"When shaken by the repeated attacks, fearful for his left flank, or finding that Kuroki could be held only with difficulty from his communications, Kuropatkin, who was present in per-son, countenanced a general withdrawal from the positions, and about midnight he fell back to the third line, leaving ven prismers in the Japanese hands BEATEN BUT NOT ROUTED. 'Kuropatkin was beaten but not rout I by any means. It was thought that he Japanese would occupy Liao Yang mmediately but there were to be 4s ours more of sanquinary struggle be tre the withdrawal of Kuropatkin." Commenting on the forgoing, the inies says:

"If the Russians still put their trust entreuchments they have learn at all events how to construct them with telling effect. Their artillery also seems to have been successfullyhandled ords that the Russian tactics as whole were a revelation for which Oku and to pay dearly; yet the history of the war thus far, or, indeed that of any other war, hardly records anything more heroic than the tripple advance of Oku's infantry against most appailing

RUSSIAN VERSION.

St. Petersburg, Sept. &-A Russian correspondent of the Associated Press a graphic description of the fighting Topeka, Kan., Sept. 8 .- Robert Romain, a deported Colorado miner, under arrest here for burglary, confessed today that he helped in the Vindicator mine dynamiting in Colorado last fall and in blowing up the depot platform in Independence, Colo., last June.

Romain said that he was one of the strikers at Victor and that he helped to arrange the dynamite which caused the death of so many non-union miners. He gave the names of the men who. vere with him and told in detail how the work was done

Romain said the dynamite was laid under the depot platform at Indepen-dence. He told how the dynamite was connected with a concealed wire to a It was agreed that the chair was to be moved backward so as to pull the wire and explode the dynamite. A pistol was attached to one end of the wire and the pistol was directly under the big charge of dynamite.

Romain was waiting in the room with the others when the train builed up to the station and saw two of his friends among the number. He wanted to get them away and started to tell them to leave the platform, when one of the men who was with him struck him on the head with a revolver. The dynamite charge was exploded a few minutes aft erward and the friends of Romain were killed or injured. In his description of the laying of the dynamite at the Vindicator mine he went into details about the different shifts and told all about how the wires

Romain pleaded guilty to the charge of burglary today, but was not sen-tenced. The Colorado authorities were communicated with and Romain will probably be taken there.
